

A Hungry Heart

Unbelievers go through life with a hungry heart,
They don't even know where to start.
Life's complexities cloud many days,
Not knowing what to do and say.
One day a Bible will open somewhere,
As they read it, they'll realize that someone cares.
The more they read,
The more they need.
God slowly draws them in;
They realize they can be free from sin.
Soon the hungry heart will start to be fed each day,
As new believers they'll start to pray.

© 2006 Barbara A. Hoff

1873 – 10/22/06